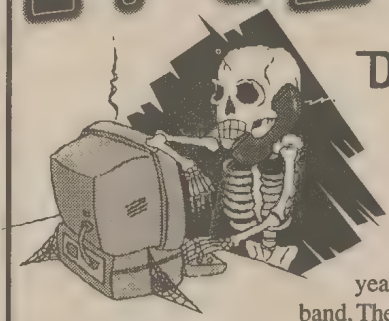
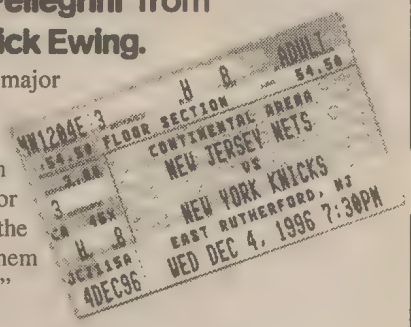
BY DAN LORENZO



After unsuccessfully trying to scam free Knick tickets for the past five years, Keith Roth (from the band, The Shag), told me what should have been painfully obvious. "There's no guest list for Knicks games." His words hit me like bullets in the stomach. We were having lunch at The Iron Horse in Westwood, N.J. I was so upset I'm surprised I even finished my third cheeseburger. So I drove to The Pyramid in Bergenfield and paid (!) for 6th-row floor seats. The Knicks won. I got to go "backstage" for free food and drinks.

I met Monica Pellegrini from UPN 9, and Patrick Ewing.

Patrick recently took major flack for saying fans shouldn't boo. I agree with him. As Blitz from Overkill (another major Knicks fan) told me, the fans should support them "through thick and thin."



Lots of bands have been mailing us discs including:

Stir Fried, the brain child of Johnny Markowski, son of Thomas Jefferson (Tommy) Kaye. (Excuse my ignorance, but wasn't he like our nation's third president?) Buddy Cage from the New Riders of the Purple Sage and Derek Trucks also jam on this disc. For more info call (201) 833-8910.

Brutal Truth featuring Dan Lilker (formerly of Anthrax and Nuclear Assault and S.O.D.). This disc is brutal. The fast parts are silly, but when they slow things down, it rules. Beautiful disc cover, available from Relapse Records.

Klank. The good people at Mazur P.R. sent me this industrial/metal/techno disc. Support this local talent.

And finally, the Crescent City Maulers C.D. If you like New Orleans Blues at its best, then listen to these guys. This Friday, December 20, they're at The Bell Lap Tavern in Nutley and New Year's Eve they're at Tierney's in Montclair. Call their hotline for dates at (201) 696-1846.

See Ya.

How many are living on Rudy's menu of free hot dogs and $1.50 drafts? Culinary and economic considerations aside, Rudy's is an excellent spot for people-watching. One evening I was there with a writer friend, we had to talk over two loud redheads bemoaning the cattle call that was their previous Broadway auditon. And below their highpitched twaddle, two reporters from the Times spoke in monotones about Burundi and Zaire.*

Mike Judge, 33, grew up in Albuquerque, New Mexico and worked at a multitude of occupations, some of which included a Jack In The Box, Whataburger, San Mateo Drugs and a paper route for the Albuquerque News. At Whataburger, Judge earned the distinction of Employee Of The Month; however, he was fired from Jack In The Box for constantly eating french fries on the job.

But fate had more than greasy french fries in store for Judge. It was the former engineer's dream to break into comedy and filmmaking but he didn't know how to go about it. Then one night he went to the "Animation Celebration" at the Inwood Theater in Dallas. Apparently that was all the inspiration he needed—from that day on Judge became obsessed with making an animated film. The next day he went to the library and checked out a book on animation. He bought an old Bolex movie camera and some supplies and started making animated films and successfully entered them in several animation festivals.

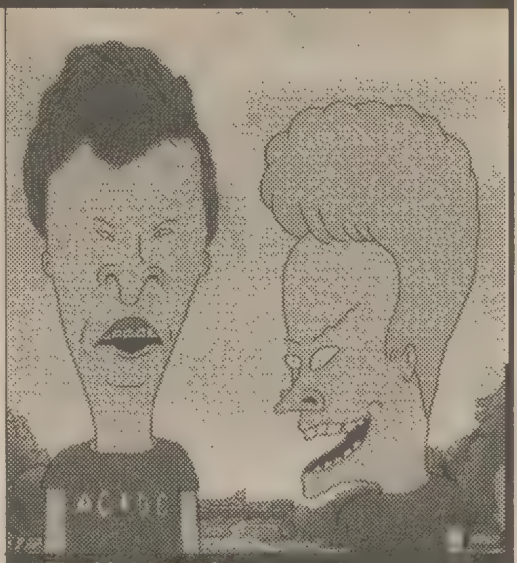
However, it was five years ago this month that Judge started working on a short cartoon called "Frog Baseball," featuring two poorly drawn characters (Judge also does the voices) called Beavis and Butt-Head, that he had lying around for about a year. He finished the cartoon and played it in the "Sick and Twisted" Animation Festival in La Jolla, California. Soon after, MTV became interested in the cartoon for their "Liquid Television," which featured animated shorts. Judge sent MTV a tape of four cartoons, and the show accepted all of them. By the fall of '92, plans were in the works to make 65 episodes of the "Beavis and Butt-Head" show. The rest is "haw-haw, haw-haw" history.

During the past five years the "Beavis and Butt-Head" phenomenon exploded. "Beavis and Butt-Head" souvenirs and merchandise are currently a multi-million dollar business. Yet, all that glitters is not gold. Although extremely successful, the cartoon is also controversial. Since the show's premiere, dozens of right-wing conservative groups have blamed Judge's creation for promoting delinquency among adolescents. One New York-based watchdog group, Morality in Media, said "Beavis and Butt-Head" might be responsible for the death of an 8-month-old girl, who was killed when a bowling ball was thrown from an overpass onto a New Jersey highway and struck her family's car. The group cited an episode of the show in which Beavis and Butt-Head loaded a bowling ball with explosives and dropped it from a rooftop. Newspapers reported this "coincidence" prominently, and CNN and local TV stations ran clips from "Beavis and Butt-Head" next to photos of the child before she died. As it turned out, the 18-year-old arrested for throwing the bowling ball didn't get cable and never saw the show. "It saddens and amazes me," said Judge. "To link the program to a tragedy like that with absolutely no evidence—it's just unbelievable."

On Friday, December 20, Judge and his metalhead misfits will face their greatest challenge thus far, when the threesome take Hollywood by storm in the animated feature "Beavis and Butt-Head Do America." Based on the MTV series, the $10 million film is predicted to earn Judge and Paramount Pictures a whopping $100 million profit.

During the following interview Judge, who by the way is nothing like his creations, calmly talks about everything you ever wanted or didn't want to know about his brainchild, ...including a little game called Frog Baseball.

Filmmaker Mike Judge



Butt-Head Beavis

Cheese! Daytime: Did you ever dream that one day on MTV Mr. Judge an MTV[illegible] your boyhood drawings as the stars?

Mike Judge: No! No I didn't. I try not to think about it but from time to time it really can be overwhelming. A few nights ago the magnitude of it all really sunk in. It's funny, because it's still pretty much a down-home operation.

So despite all of "Beavis and Butt-Head" success you still operate the whole operation?

Yeah. Well, it's not so much that there's somebody over me saying "No, we're not going to let you do that." You see, ever since I did the first ["Beavis and Butt-Head"] short, it's been how many episodes can we get out and in how much time. It's always, "We need more, more, more!" They want high volume but there're only so many hours in a day. So I don't have the opportunity to always fix things. So a lot of stuff gets through that I don't always like.

How did the making of the movie "Beavis and Butt-Head Do America" affect the [illegible] of [illegible] and the MTV [illegible]?

We slowed down the show to do the movie. I went crazy on the movie and I feel pretty good about it. Actually, I think the movie is better than the show.

I [illegible] me [illegible] "Beavis and Butt-Head?"

Well, it started as a two-minute short. I was trying to draw a guy I went to high school with but, even though it didn't look anything like him, I just kept drawing because I thought it looked funny. There were actually five attempts to draw the same guy as I recall. And of Hey Virginia, Lighten up... of course there's a Santa Claus...

The annual contention over the existence of Santa Claus has for a long time been the controversy of many a playground. The debate is usually sparked by the depraved reality of lost faith as adulthood plucks up by the roots the innocence of childhood dreams.

How sad a thought when one gives up such a right as to hope and believe in what could not possibly be true; a jolly old man with a funny red suit and a woolly white beard carrying gifts to children, young and old. How ridiculous, how utterly stupid to imagine... flying reindeer? Only a child could believe in such a thing.

Dear Editor,

I am 8 years old.

Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says "If you see it in The Sun it's so." Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?

Virginia O'Hanlon

115 West 95th Street, New York City

Maybe that is why only a child can find solitude within the confines of a swing. Maybe that is why only a child can find joy in the rain or pleasure among the company of others, regardless of race or color, maybe that is why only children don't go to war. Just maybe they know something we don't. Just maybe there is a Santa Claus and we, as adults, have just forgotten. Just maybe...

It's likely the debate will continue forever, except in the spirit of 8-year-old Virginia O'Hanlon, who in 1897, under the advice of her father, wrote a letter to the Editor of the New York Sun, asking to once and for all put the matter to rest—"Is there a Santa Claus?"

The reply to her letter was written by an editorial writer named Francis Pharcellus Church. It was not until the day after his death in 1906 that it became known that he had written the most famous editorial response in history!

Steppin' Out Magazine is proud to reprint that celebrated response in hopes that it will restore in its readers during this holiday season that same miracle of faith that it restored in the heart of little Virginia back in 1897.

"Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith, then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment except in sense and sight. The external light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen or unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle to see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, not even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, can tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

HAVE A SAFE AND HAPPY HOLIDAY!

A solitary CD can look awfully lonely under a Christmas tree. But package a few discs together in a handsome box, throw in some liner notes and–presto–you've got a gift worth giving. Or better yet, one worth receiving. Here are some of the box sets released during 1996, including collections you shouldn't miss and a few you can probably do without.

"In My Lifetime" Neil Diamond; Columbia.

My parents were forever playing Neil Diamond eight-tracks when I was growing up, so, as a matter of reflex, I grew to hate the guy. "You Don't Send Me Flowers" with Barbra Streisand? "The Jazz Singer"? Those sequins and sideburns? Yecch.

But you know what? I was dead wrong. One listen to this three-CD collection, and I'm a believer. People who have followed Diamond since his early days may recall that he wrote "Solitary Man" (recently covered by Chris Isaak), "Girl, You'll Be a Woman Soon" (featured in "Pulp Fiction") "Red, Red Wine" (popularized by UB40) and, yes, the Monkees' "I'm a Believer," but I never knew he had it in him. Even Diamond's later work—"Song Sung Blue," "Love on the Rocks," "September Morn"—sounds great again, making this box a great gift for your 50-something mom or your 25-year-old brother.

"Crossroads 2" Eric Clapton; Polydor.

Released in 1988, Eric Clapton's "Crossroads" quickly became a huge seller and immediately secured a place for him in the blues-rock pantheon. Polydor's "Crossroads 2," a comprehensive examination of the former Yardbird's 1970s concert performances, will only bolster his reputation.

Clapton's slow-burning flame reaches peak intensity throughout this four-CD set. Smoking covers of Jimi Hendrix's "Little Wing," Bob Marley's "I Shot the Sheriff" and a handful of Robert Johnson classics mix well with pop-rock favorites like "Layla" and "Lay Down Sally." As we've come to expect from this guitar master, there isn't a wasted chord to be found on "Crossroads 2"—this is seamless, soulful blues and a worthy addition to anyone's collection.

"The Complete Blue Note Sixties Sessions" Dexter Gordon; Blue Note.

Immortalized for his performance in the 1986 jazz epic "Round Midnight," Dexter Gordon's storied career spanned five decades and included countless twists and turns. The acclaimed tenor saxophonist joined Lionel Hampton's big band at age 17 in 1940, did jail time in the 1950s and later signed to Blue Note Records in 1960.

"Sixties Sessions" finds Gordon on the rebound from his drug woes, full of vigor and at the top of his form. His playing is crisp, aggressive and, yet, always in service of the song, no matter whether he is giving a lush reading of the Gershwins' "I Was Doing Allright" or a frenetic original like "Cheese Cake." Accessible and impeccable, this six-CD set is for both jazz aficionados and the dabbler.

"Bill Evans: The Secret Sessions" Bill Evans; Fantasy.

When is a bootleg not a bootleg? For starters, when the guilty party gets proper authorization for his tapes and agrees to release them in an eight-CD box set, all is usually forgiven.

And that's exactly what jazz junkie Mike Harris did with all of his illegal recordings of jazz pianist Bill Evans. Taped on 26 different evenings at the Village Vanguard in New York City, these 104 tracks capture Evans at his innovative, lighthearted best. If you can look past—or listen past—the muffled conversations, clinking glasses and subpar separations in the background, this could be a good box to get.

"Rockin' and Driftin': The Drifters Box" The Drifters; Rhino.

The Drifters weren't a vocal group; they were a franchise. It didn't matter who was in the constantly shifting lineup, the Drifters consistently recorded standard-setting versions of great rock 'n' roll songs written by the likes of Burt Bacharach, Lieber & Stoller and Phil Spector. Vocalists Clyde McPhatter, Johnny Moore and Ben E. King all shared the spotlight during the Drifters' 21-year run, belting out smooth classics such as "On Broadway," "Save the Last Dance for Me," "Spanish Harlem," "Up on the Roof" and dozens more. They're all here on this three-CD set, a surefire hit for R&B fans.

"Souvenirs" Connie Francis; Polydor.

Connie Francis may have landed 35 Top 40 hits between 1958 and 1964, but neither her songs nor her big hair have aged particularly well. Credited with bridging the gap between Elvis Presley and the Beatles, Francis lacked the passion of the former and the artistry of the latter. In fact, she's sort of a female Pat Boone, and not necessarily deserving of a boxed retrospective.

A few of her biggest hits—"Who's Sorry Now," "Where the Boys Are," "Never on a Sunday"—have survived largely as kitsch klassics, and the rest might as well be forgotten.

"Blues Classics" various; MCA.

The wisdom of compiling 42 years' worth of blues classics in a three-CD set is debatable, but MCA deserves plaudits for being upfront about its overly ambitious endeavor.

"Today, thanks to a series of corporate business deals and complicated takeovers, many of these recordings have come under one roof, MCA Records, and now a sweeping chronological picture ... can be presented as a cohesive whole." With access to the catalogs of Chess, Checkers, Vocalion, Decca, Aristocrat and others, MCA does indeed have a point.

MORSELS

mike morse

The story of Santa and the wondrous journey he takes every Christmas Eve is one that thrills and delights millions of children and adults alike. There is, however, a side to that story that is not quite so delightful. A side that at least one pint-sized person with long curly shoes and pointy little ears believes should be heard.

I traveled to the North Pole to interview Ignatz P. Elf, one of Kris Kringle's tiny workers who has just written a book called Santa Dearest. The book is an exposé on what Ignatz claims to be the horrendous working conditions and gross mistreatment of elfin employees at Santa's Workshop. I learned more than I wanted to know about the subject, and ended up with a sprained ankle besides.

SO: Hello, Mr. Elf.

ELF: Please, call me Iggy.

SO: Okay, Iggy. How are things going up here? It's a busy time of the year for you, isn't it?

ELF: Busy ain't the word for it. The Fat Man has us all working double shifts, even canceled our pixie dust breaks, for God sake! I'm telling ya, it's been like…

SO: Whoa, we're getting ahead of ourselves. Tell me, how long have you been working here at the North Pole?

ELF: I been here, oh, almost nine years now.

SO: Really? I would have thought you've worked here making toys for good little girls and boys for hundreds and hundreds of years!

ELF: What, are you saying I look that old?

(At this point, Iggy smacks me in the side of the head with a large candy cane.)

SO: Ow! No, I just thought that elves…

ELF: Yeah, you thought. No, I started out in the movies. My first role was in "Willie Wonka And The Chocolate Factory."

SO: You were one of the Oompah Loompahs?

ELF: No, I played a basketball player. Look at me! Of course I was an Oompah Loompah! I was the Head Oompah Loompah! I should've been nominated for an Oscar for that damn role! But the Academy is prejudiced against elves, so my work went unnoticed.

SO: What happened next?

ELF: Well, then I was an Ewok in that "Return Of The Jedi" flick, and I was the leprechaun in the Lucky Charms commercial. But there's only so much work in Hollywood for a 3'6" actor. So, after a couple of years as a stunt double for Michael J. Fox, I drifted up here looking for a job. That's when the trouble began.

SO: Okay, tell us about that.

ELF: I figured that working for the Fat Man would be a breeze. Hammer on a toy soldier or two, spend the rest of the day in the yard making snow angels, piece of cake, right? Wrong. The lazy tub o' lard works us night and day! Kids these days want thousands of different kinds of toys, and we've got to make 'em all! I tell ya, by the end of the day, I'm so tired my poor elf shoes won't even stay curled.

SO: Well, isn't that your job as one of Santa's helpers, making toys?

ELF: Come here for a minute...

(He pokes me in the eye with the candy cane.)

SO: Ow! That hurt!

ELF: That's for interrupting me. But to answer your question, it's not just the toy making. We have to feed the reindeer, brush the reindeer, clean up after the reindeer. Did you ever smell what comes out of a reindeer?

SO: No.

ELF: I tell ya, it'll make your eyes water.

SO: Like a candy cane in the eye.

ELF: Exactly. Then we have to wrap all the toys, wash his big smelly red suit, even clip Mrs. Claus' toenails. Yeccch!

SO: Why don't you go on strike?

ELF: Are you kidding? Since the Big Elf strike at Keebler back in '88, we don't dare strike. You know what they did to those elves? Shot tear gas into those hollow trees, then pelted the poor little bastards with stale Pecan Sandies. It was a massacre.

SO: Well, if I may say, it sounds to me like you're just a lazy elf who doesn't want to pull his weight around here.

ELF: Oh yeah? Why don't you pull this?

(He smacks me in the leg with the candy cane.)

SO: Oaawww! I think you broke my ankle!

ELF: Aww, that's too bad. Why don't you ask Santa for a pair of crutches this Christmas? End of interview!

The Barfly

By Alan Tecchio

Maryann's (yes all four of them!) still have their Monday night fajita special going on. You get your choice of fajita—chicken, beef or veggie—plus one of their award-winning margaritas for only $11.95. Yum. Maryann's happy hour cranks from 4-7PM Sunday through Friday and $2.50 bottled beers, margaritas, sangria and well drinks are enjoyed during these hallowed hours. Maryann's four locations include: 2452 Broadway @ 91st St. (212) 877-0132, 80 2nd Ave. @ 5th St. (212) 475-5939, 1503 2nd Ave. @ 78th St. (212) 249-6165, and 116 8th Ave. @ 16th St. (212) 633-0877.

I dropped by Davey's Locker in Montvale, NJ last week for some grub and grog. Davey's is a very warm and inviting place with a good selection of beers and a fine kitchen. As soon as I saw they had Honey Brown on tap I knew all would be well! Next time you're in North Jersey make your way in. Their street address is 5 Park St. and their phone number is (201) 391-9356.

And to my loyal weekly Barfly readers.... Don't say I never gave you anything! If you're looking for a rip-roaring event to attend in NYC this New Year's Eve, look no further. Steve Marshall & The Deputies will be playing at Bar 15 (129 E. 15th St.) on this, one of the wildest party nights of the year. Here's how you benefit—Entrance to this den of iniquities and intoxication will be lessened with the presentation of this column. If you come party-clad and clasping this very article, your admission will be just $60.00 per person. If you are not a privileged Steppin' Out reader (gag....) the cost is $75.00. Hey, membership has its privileges! The price includes open bar, free dinner buffet and you get to enjoy the sights and sounds of Steve and his group.

Jersey side, you can always head over to The Cadillac Bar in Hoboken for the New Year's festivities. They will only be asking $15.00 per person at the door and there will be live music, a free buffet, tons of drink specials, a champagne toast at midnight and plenty of prizes. You can't beat that with a stick! The Caddy is located at 40 Newark St. and can be reached at (201) 653-0223.

In The Snow

With Alan Tecchio

SNOWBOARDERS LEAD THE WAY FOR SKIERS!

I never thought that I would admit it, but it cannot be denied that the snowboard-influenced "shaped" ski is the newest and most popular ski this season. Popular, not just among buyers, but among the manufacturers themselves. The vast majority of skis on the market today are of a shaped design. That's just plain revolutionary and we have the snowboard to thank for it! In seeking the truth about this mysterious shaped ski thing, I sought the assistance of Russ Carp, manager of The Princeton Ski Shop on Rt. 3 West in Clifton, NJ. According to Russ, Elan came out with a parabolic ski last year that basically spearheaded the current shaped craze. "The whole idea behind parabolic is the radius of your turn—how sharp of a turn you cut." said Russ. He added, "If you look at this new ski it's a dramatic side cut, meaning it has a very, very narrow mid-body in comparison to the shovel and the tail. So when you flex the ski you automatically carve a deeper bend in the ski which offers immediate better contact of the edge when you press into it. This causes a deeper side cut and a harder arcing turn. The proponents of shaped skis boast that you can turn so tight, you can do turns around lift poles." The fact that many people ski these new skis short also helps in facilitating turning and control. Though pretty much every major ski manufacturer has followed Elan into the shapely future, most have toned down the drastic curves Elan prides itself on. Terms like radical sidecut and hourglass describe these newer, less extreme styles. Looks like the buying public is going to have a number of new shapes and sizes to choose from this year. For more information on this and other winter sport stuff call Princeton at (201) 779-7100. They really do have all the answers!

Readers! Don't forget about our Hunter Mountain contest. We've already got two winners. There are still three chances to win. If you get Steppin' Out's name on a radio or television program you can win two unrestricted lift tickets, two board or ski rentals (shaped ski demos anyone?!), and two ski lessons! It's a $190.00 value so get off your arses! Recorded proof is necessary to win.

Fashion Forward

By Kaye Lengan

The annual BCBG Christmas bash was recently held at Chasen's in Los Angeles, and you-know-who was on hand to check out the fashion politics. Those in the style mix know that Max Azria—the genius behind the wildly popular label—recently bought out the Parallel line as well, which pretty much makes him king of the contemporary cutting edge markets for women 18 to 34.

BCBG bigwigs along with Parallel executives gathered under a huge white tent to party down with their peers and enjoy a scrumptious buffet that included a mouth-watering filet mignon. And since BCBG is the dress mode of choice for the cast of Melrose Place (you can't even turn on the tube nowadays without seeing Max's influence), the entertainment was right on target. The talented female singing trio known as Wild Orchid—who also voice the MP theme song—performed a medley of acappella Christmas carols for the champagne-sipping crowd. Onlookers also enjoyed a dance recital that feaured hip-hop, modern and jazz influences, and at the end of the night were given a huge BCBG cappuccino mug as a momento of the evening.

Most of the guests in attendance wisely chose to wear ensembles from the designer label. A beautiful dress featured in the 1996 holiday collection is a floor-length black stretch velvet gown that ties around the neck, and the ties hang gracefully down the back. Satin was a popular fabric this year, and one attendee wore a rouge blazer and matching mini with black patent leather boots. One look that really stood out was a lovely cream suit: a simple crepe blazer with matching hipster pants, worn with a black satin blouse underneath. The three-quarter length black satin wrap was spotted topping many an outfit, and also popular was the luscious suede belted jacket with faux fur trim. Even the footwear was conspicuously BCBG; as a matter of fact, shoe fanatics will be happy to know that the company recently opened up its first footwear boutique in the Westside Pavilion mall in L.A., with plans to expand out here on the East Coast.

Another hot topic of discussion was the premiere of the BCBG men's line, which will hit stores this spring. Several gentlemen were spotted wearing samples of the upcoming collection, and it looks hot! Judging from the holiday party and the amazing amount of press this young company has been receiving throughout the past year, it looks like 1997 will be a very Happy New Year for Max Azria!

RANT N' RAVE

By Leslie Gold

Wassup, kids? Well, the holidays are here (there's nothing like stating the obvious, is there?) and with them, the end of another year. This is a time for people to reflect on the past year, take stock, and try to figure out what they're gonna do to make [illegible] the Hallmark crap. One of the by-products of this deep thought process is a certain boredom with the known and a growing interest in the different and/or altogether unknown. On the club circuit, there's plenty of known—the same scene consistently set in different scenery (thuffering thuccotath!). But some clubs simply refuse to play this particular game of follow the leader [illegible] thing (insert gasp of surprise here). F'rinstance, Tuesday nights at Casablanca in Garfield, NJ are as far from the status quo as you're likely to get in a live-music venue. Casa—as it's affectionately called by its regular patrons—features live blues, jazz and acoustic rock instead of alternative-rock cover bands; [illegible] DJ, and visual art presentations instead of a trendy decor. [illegible] Christmas lights that are lit year-round, the loud tablecloths prominently displayed, etc., but this works toward enhancing the atmosphere. This atmosphere is one of the many characteristics that distinguishes Casa from the artsy coffeehouses of [illegible] a cold shoulder or an upturned nose to be found. Most of the artists—both aural and visual—are regulars at the club, and this too adds to the friendly vibe. Possibly the kickin'est thing about this club, however, is something that its owners could not have planned or manipulated: merely being in this environment [illegible] a patron frantically scribbling a drawing, poem or song idea on a bar napkin or the flip side of a menu (yes, this mecca serves food [illegible] artistic ability than you had when you entered, a nudge in the right direction certainly can't hurt. Whether you're an artist of any kind or merely an art appreciator, Casablanca Tuesdays just might be the change you've been looking for. They'll be closed Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve, but mark your calendar for Jan. 7, or call 201-772-9772 for further information.

Lots of you are familiar with some of the hundreds of bands on the [illegible] bands are familiar with each other—over the months and years of playing [illegible] friends; they hang out, and they go to each other's shows (at least, they do if they don't have a gig the same night). A perfect example is Overboard, [illegible] scene, but made up of scene veterans. This being the case, Overboard is something of a magnet to other local musicians; [illegible] (the one man, one guitar nation unto himself), Section 8's bass player, [illegible] World, to name a few. Sometimes musicians go merely to hang; sometimes they sit in for a song or two. Either way, it's refreshing to know that, although animosities between bands are occasionally perceived, more often than not bands that play together tend to...well, play together. Mutual respect is a beautiful thing, ain't it?

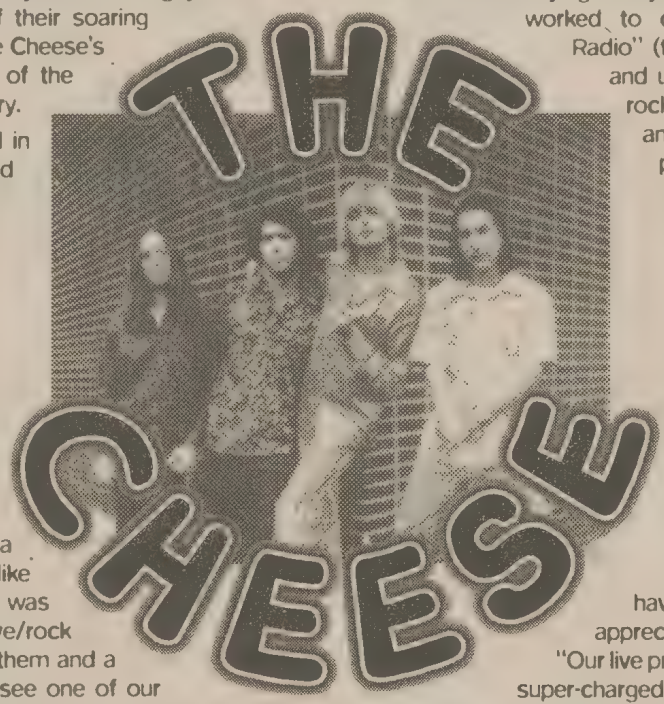
Smile and say...

Get ready to smile and say C-H-E-E-S-E...The Cheese, that is. This band of New Jersey natives is on the verge of becoming huge. There's no doubt that The Cheese is well on its way to achieving its dream of having a long musical career and "playing good rock-n-roll and having a great time." The Cheese, comprised of members Owen McCarthy (lead singer/rhythm guitar), Joel Cannon (lead guitar), Ben Toro (bass/vocals), and Brian "the Breather" Gabriel (drums), are poised for stardom with the September release of their debut CD, "Flip Your Lid," on Curb Records. The name of the CD couldn't be more appropriate, because that's exactly what these guys must be doing as a result of their soaring career. As a matter of fact, The Cheese's career reads like a page out of the "local band makes good" story.



The Cheese officially formed in 1995 from the remnants of Cloud 9, which featured Joel, Owen and Ben. With the addition of drummer Brian, the line-up was complete. After playng together for only a few months, The Cheese was already causing quite a buzz and had garnered label interest. That's when fate stepped in. Ben explained, "Someone from another label (that wasn't signing new bands at the time) told us that Curb Records, a country label that has artists like Winona and Hank Williams Jr., was looking to start an alternative/rock branch. We sent our demo to them and a rep flew up from Nashville to see one of our New York shows. After the gig, the rep approached us and signed us on the spot! Now we're the first rock act on the label." Not too shabby, considering the members of the band had been together less than a year at the time they were signed, a remarkable feat in the music industry.

That was one smart rep. With the help of producer (and unofficial fifth member of the band) Mark Mason, who's worked with artists like Soul Asylum, The Breeders and Joan Osbourne, The Cheese recorded one of the most unique musical offerings in a long time. Their self-described "electrifying acid rock" is a breath of fresh air in a musical world that's full of cookie-cutter bands (or "alterna-whiners" as I like to call them). After listening to "Flip Your Lid," it's obvious that there's nothing ordinary or predictable about The Cheese. The band has managed to create its own distinct brand of eclectic rock that sets it apart from the rest. According to Joel, The Cheese is hard to describe. He explained, "Our sound is really a mix of everything we listened to growing up [i.e. Beatles, Tom Petty, Neil Young, Zeppelin, AC/DC, Aerosmith, etc.] and what's going on today. We're definitely influenced by the music of the late '60s and early '70s, as well as '90s bands like Soundgarden, Nirvana and Jellyfish." Owen added, "Even our name is as ambiguous as the band. It can mean a lot of things. We want people to interpret our music and lyrics for themselves."

This melting pot of varied musical styles is evident throughout the C.D. The band is equally comfortable and adept, turning out solid, catchy tunes whether they be electrifying acid rock, psychedelic, "tasteful" pop, or melodic ballads. The Cheese showcases its hard-driving "trippy" style on tunes like "The Electrifying Pussywillow Love" (the first single being worked to college radio) and "Moonshine Radio" (the soon-to-be video). The riffing and use of the"wah" brings back '70s rock at its best. Songs like "Betty" and "Keep Me Protected" have a psychedelic "spacey" vibe a la Ziggy Stardust. The band quickly changes gears on songs like the Beatlesque "Plastic Flowers" and "See Saw" and the "feel good" pop ditties "The King" and "True Divine" (reminiscent of Jellyfish and Cheap Trick). The CD ends on a mellow note with the breezy ballad "End of My Song." All of The Cheese's songs manage to be honest, reflective and insightful, while still being witty and fun.

Even though the CD rules, you have to see The Cheese live to really appreciate them. According to Brian, "Our live presentations are hard-hitting rockin' super-charged shows that kick you in the face." The band has played all over and has opened for major acts like Superdrag and Bush. You can see The Cheese Dec. 21 at Walley's in Bergenfield, NJ or Dec. 27 at the Metro in Long Branch, NJ. In February they'll be hitting the road on a select U.S. tour, with a stop in New Orleans for Mardi Gras at the Gavin Convention. For further dates near you, call The Cheese hotline at (201) 294-9099.

Enough said. Buy the CD (available in major record stores). See them live. The Cheese is the real deal. Next to them, all other bands are...well...just Velveeta.

For information about The Cheese, contact Tom Bruchalski at #9 Entertainment Inc., P.O. Box 4, Waldwick, NJ 07463, (201) 294-9099.

that five, one of them was Beavis and one of them was Butt-Head. Neither of them really looked like the guy.

Thank God for him!

from your own?

Um…Yeah, I hate to admit it, but certain things, like for example, Beavis is similar to the way I used to act when I tried to irritate my brother and sister when I was a kid, especially when we would watch TV. I would just talk the whole time in this weird foreign

"I was trying to draw a guy I went to high anything like him, I just kept drawing (Laughs) Yeah, right!

The animation is hardly an artistic masterpiece. Have you ever taken an art course before or since the show first aired on MTV in 1991?

I guess I was seven or eight when my mom took me to a cartoon drawing class at the local YMCA. I think I went to two or three classes. But now when thinking back, I pretty much figure that my teacher was probably a junkie.

What makes you think your art teacher was a junkie?

Well he would sort of almost fall asleep in class—he was just really strung out. He could barely talk. I guess it was after the fourth class—I was driving with my mom and we spotted my [cartoon] teacher hitchhiking on the side of the road and he looked really scary. So my mom took me out of the class. That was the only art class I've ever taken.

So somewhere there is a strung-out junkie who can brag that he taught Mike Judge how to draw.

(Laughs) Yeah! He's probably holed up in some crack house.

When you step back and look at what you've created and the social impact it's had on our culture, what goes through your mind?

I don't know if it has had a big social impact. A lot of times I wonder how other people perceive this whole thing because to me, when I see Beavis and Butt-Head on the cover of a magazine I just kind of think to myself, "there's that drawing that I did." I mean a lot of times I'll draw it bigger than it actually is on the magazine cover so it really doesn't seem like that big of a deal. I don't know what I think, actually. Like I said, I try not to think about it because sometimes when I do think about it, it gets a little weird. It's a little overwhelming. (Laughs) I also think, "Thank God it's not my face on those magazine covers."

The personalities that you've given Beavis and Butt-Head are obviously bizarre, yet so lovable. Does any of their persona come accent, very similar to what Beavis does when he goes into that "Corn-holyo" thing.

That leads me to my next question. I have to admit I laugh out loud when I watched Beavis repeating over and over to himself the words Corn-holyo [sic]. What the hell is a Corn-holyo?

(Laughs) I don't know myself. That's one of those things where I just went with my instincts just to see what would happen and it worked!

Do Beavis and Butt-Head have a last name?

(Pause) Um…I don't know. At this point I would hate to say. After the first Beavis and Butt-Head short, "Frog Baseball," I did a story board for another short where I actually gave them last names. In fact I still think they're on that story board, but it's something that I never ended up doing.

Why?

I just thought it would be better to keep it vague.

This is not the time to be vague. Tell me their last names, dammit!

(Laughs) Okay, Beavis was the last name of a guy I knew in junior high who actually was nothing like my Beavis. So I guess you could say that is his last name. And Butt-Head's last name is actually Head. (Laughs) So naturally Beavis started calling him Butt!

In the current issue of Rolling Stone there is a prediction that "Beavis and Butt-Head Do America" will earn Paramount Pictures $100 million. Do you agree with that prediction?

I don't know about that. I guess that's based on the fact that it tested really well.

Tested well is an understatement. "Forrest Gump" scored an 83 when it was test screened. Your film scored an 85.

There were two test screenings actually. One beat "Forrest Gump" and one was just under. But I don't know. You just can't tell. When the movie premieres is when we'll find out what the country really thinks about this. MTV is a small cable network so it's hard to guage how popular they really are, although it does seem that everyone knows who Beavis and Butt-Head are. But how many people are willing to pay seven bucks to go see them is another story. However, it does seem like it's going to do well from what I hear on the street. I'm not trying to boast but there is really no movie that compares to this. You could say well "Dumb and

I close my eyes because I'm thinking about bringing the sound up from my diaphragm. It's almost like singing. (Begins to do the voice of Butt-Head) Haw-haw, haw-haw, haw-haw. And with Beavis, the laugh started as an imitation of the guy I was trying to school with but, even though it didn't look because I thought it looked funny."

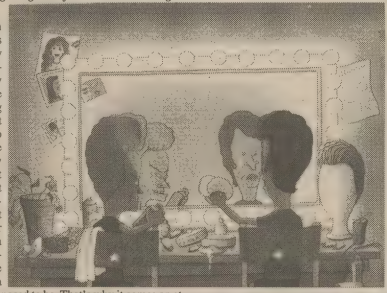
Dumber did $100 million," but that's live action and it's Jim Carrey, who's already huge.

Groups like Morality in Media have come down on "Beavis and Butt-Head" in the past, blaming the cartoon for America's youth problems. With that in mind did you tone down the story line in the film to avoid getting heat from conservative right wingers?

There was some hesitation about a couple of things that I had planned. Just very minor things in the dialogue. But really not very much at all. This is a movie which falls under a rating system of PG-13, so I don't think people will be able to say too much about it. The problem with the TV show is that people just can't get out of their heads the fact that there could be an animated program that's not for little kids. No matter how many times you put a disclaimer on or tell everyone that it's not for little kids, people still call it a kid's show and it's not supposed to be. That's why it comes on at 11:30 pm.



Is it fair to assume there won't be any frog baseball playing in the film?

(Laughs) No! There was a scene where Beavis smacks a vulture pretty hard when it tries to pick at his flesh. But no, this time we didn't do any frog baseball scenes.

When I hear the names Beavis and Butt-Head, the first thought that comes to mind is that cackling, now infamous laugh of theirs. What inspired it?

Well, with my characters in the past I always had a voice that I did first. But with Beavis and Butt-Head I had the drawings without a voice, and originally I didn't even want to do the voice of Beavis. I just looked at their drawings and I saw that I had written on the "Frog Baseball" storyboard the words, "Demented and demonic laughter." I remember looking at Butt-Head and the way his gums stood out so I just came up with the most vacant, dumb sound I could think of. It's weird; whenever I'm doing Butt-Head's voice draw from high school. He would sit in class and bite his lower lip and go (Begins to do the voice of Beavis) "Heh-heh, heh-heh, heh-heh," just kind of like laughing at every little joke the teacher made. You know I found a tape recently of myself trying different laughs when I first started Beavis and Butt-Head. It's really scary.

Why?

Because I heard some of the sounds I made and I thought, Oh God, what if I had done that one! Things might have turned out differently.

The liberal weekly,* The Nation, *called the show repulsive and blamed it for the death of a child in Ohio. Do you ever feel that Beavis and Butt-Head have become the whipping boys for today's adolescent problems?

Oh, yeah. Completely. Sometimes it doesn't bother me at all and sometimes it really bothers me. One time it really bothered me that comes to mind is when this guy who wrote for Time magazine—I can't remember his name—but he wrote a long essay in Time about how conservative groups wanted to cut PBS and he ended it with saying, "If you just let commercialism decide things, you're going to end up with nothing but 'Beavis and Butt-Head.'"

What do you think he meant?

He was trying to say that "Beavis and Butt-Head" is an example of horrible television.

I'm sure you've heard things like that before. Why did that particular journalist get to you?

Because I knew he was just some British guy who never even saw the show. He just used it as an example and for some reason that one really bothered me. I don't know why, but on the other side of the coin I've had people like David Letterman, Bernardo Bertolucci and Patrick Stewart say they're big fans. So when I hear negativity, I guess I can deal with it.

Ask Allison

Q I can't get rid of my boyfriend's ex-girlfriend! I know there isn't anything going on but she just seems to pop up everywhere. She still sends Christmas cards and calls to get together every now and then. She knows we're serious but it really does bother me a lot. My boyfriend just blows it off but it's driving me crazy! Help.

A If you are totally positive that nothing is going on, then your only option would be to grin and bear it. There's nothing you can do about seeing her, but you can discuss with your boyfriend how it bothers you and to please tell her to stop calling or at least not return her calls. Maybe she'll get the hint. Remember, you're the one he's with now.

HOLLYWOOD JILL JACKSON'S

Glenn Close

HOLLYWOOD ... HAPPY HOLIDAYS! May they be filled with fun, love, caring, peace, and lots of good entertainment. It's out there for sure. A film for everyone, so find and enjoy.

Everybody's talking about, and to, Glenn Close, so I'd like to get my two cents in. For my money, she's the best actress in the world today, and I don't say that lightly. As Cruella DeVil in "101 Dalmations," she pulls out all the stops. She's the campiest, craziest, most outrageous, out-of-this-world villain one could ever want to see and she's wonderful! Then remember her as the plain, solid, calm and serene "Sarah, Plain and Tall" and her Emmy Award-winning "Serving In Silence." Her FIVE Academy Award nominations for "Fatal Attraction," and etc., her Tony Award-winning performance for Norma Desmond on stage in "Sunset Boulevard" and it boggles the mind. The best part is, in real life, she's an intelligent, well-adjusted, happy-in-her-private-life lady. Someone you'd want for a friend. My deepest curtsy to you, Ms. Close.

Sally Field fulfilled her dream of being a director when she helmed "The Christmas Tree" (aired Sunday night on ABC) about a nun named Sister Anthony and her battle with a young man over a Norway spruce. In honor of the occasion, the Walt Disney TV Company sent out hundreds of Norway spruce saplings to the press. I've already planted mine and somewhere in the middle of the 21st century, it should be a big tree.

Nothing like the Big Apple, but compared to what a small amount of theater L.A. used to have, we're getting there. Betty Buckley (who took over from Glenn Close as Norma Desmond in "Sunset Boulevard") brings "Andrew Lloyd Webber: Music of the Night" to the Pantages January 8 through 19th. She'll be singing all your favorite songs, so if you're in the vicinity and want to hear them, get your tickets NOW!

BITS 'N' PIECES: Aside to Hilda F. of Flint, Mich.: Joely Richardson of "101 Dalmations" is Natasha Richardson's sister. That's why they look so much alike. And just in case you didn't know, Vanessa Redgrave is their mom ... Did'ya know Ed McMahon's wife, Pam, is a dress designer? Her clothes can be found in posh places such as Neiman-Marcus and Saks ... It didn't take Melanie Griffith long to get her lush bod back into shape after having the Banderas baby. She looked smashing at a recent Glitter City Gala ... Speaking of dalmations, health and fitness guru Richard Simmons has always loved the spotted canines. He owns about 20 of them, and his house is decorated with lots and lots of white and spots...Merry Christmas!!

Do you consider it poetic justice that you made "Beavis and Butt-Head" into a full-length feature film?

Well, it will be poetic justice if it does well.

Have you heard of any problems from the theaters themselves not wanting the film?

No, not yet. Um…jeez, I wonder if they have? I'm sure they wouldn't tell me if they did.

I noticed in one of the television episodes there's a Howard Stern reference. Do Beavis and Butt-Head go together with Howard Stern like a hamburger and fries?

Yeah, I think they probably do. Usually people who like one seem to like the other. I definitely listen to Howard Stern all the time. So yeah, I think they do. People who have a good sense of humor seem to like both. It's almost like a litmus test; "Do you have a sense of humor, or better yet, do you trust your own sense of humor?"

I have to ask you this since it's been on the rumor mill. Is it true or false that Bruce Willis and Demi Moore are in the film?

Um…I'm not supposed to say. I guess because there wasn't a lot of money given to them, the agent says that it has to remain uncredited. So we can't use them to promote the movie. But if you heard rumors, then I guess that could be true.

Will there be a sequel to "Beavis and Butt-Head Do America"?

There will probably be a "Beavis and Butt-Head Do Europe." That really might happen.

Will Beavis and Butt-Head forever remain 14 years old or will they one day grow up to become contributing adults in society?

(Laughs) I think they're going to have to remain 14 forever. Sometimes I imagine them being 60-year-old dirty old men. But it's that in-between stuff that's hard to imagine. Sometimes I think Beavis will end up becoming a burned-out blue collar worker, and Butt-Head I see going the other way, like a low-level sales job at Foot Locker.

Finally, What do you think the chances are of Beavis and Butt-Head making an acceptance speech at next year's Academy Awards?

(Laughs) Ah, boy I should start working on that. I'll probably start with (goes back into the Beavis voice) "Huh-huh, huh-huh, huh-huh." I'm sure it will go downhill from there.

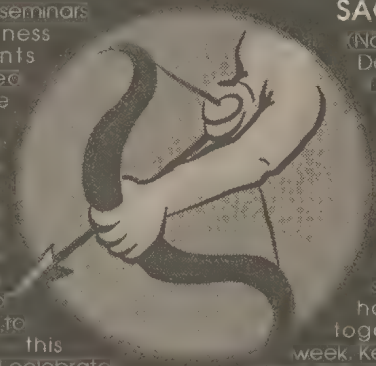
Steppin' Out Under The Stars

YOUR OUTLOOK THIS WEEK

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Some downtime is just what you need to recharge your batteries before the big holiday. Later in the week, seek out leisure activities, especially with children. Couples are in for an exciting weekend of romance and holiday bliss.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Career interests are heavily favored during the early part of the week, despite the holiday rush. A new moneymaking opportunity comes to you from a very surprising source. If considering asking for a raise, be sure to be diplomatic.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Meetings, seminars and business appointments are favored once the holiday excitement calms down somewhat. Something you hear from someone far away proves beneficial to you. Feel free to socialize this weekend and celebrate the holidays.



CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Making deals involving finances is a good idea for you at this time. Domestic interests are also favored, so spend a happy holiday with family members. You finish your week on a very peaceful, satisfied note.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Gains made in your career are multifaceted and far-reaching. However, avoid a tendency to buy into the workplace rumor mill being fueled by someone who loves to stir up trouble. This is ultimately detrimental.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Friends provide a great deal of holiday amusement, along with family. Don't be afraid to do more than dream about that trip you've been dying to take, since travel is in the stars. Your mate is supportive.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) News received is good, particularly where finances are concerned. A close friend surprises you with what you consider to be a very extravagant holiday gift. This person is merely repaying you for past generosity, so enjoy!

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You've been ignoring someone who was always important in your life, so make amends before the holiday begins. Creative projects come to the fore later in the week. Happiness is achieved through partnerships since those around you are being cooperative.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Love is in the air and some of you singles could be walking down the aisle soon! Married folks seek a special holiday time together this week. Keep your ears open this weekend for news on the financial front.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Family members rejoice in the good news all receive at a holiday gathering. If looking at making a real estate deal, it's a good time to clinch it. You spend the latter part of the week productively.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) What goes on at work proves very enlightening for you. Some even receive an offer to switch jobs or assignments. Shopping expeditions aren't particularly favored, so be sure you've gotten all your gifts.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You come up with a new approach to an old problem on the work front. However, co-workers think you're just being bossy. Ignore them and you accomplish much.

Steppin' Out PERSONALS

Words on Film

By Chachi Alagoogoo

"DAYLIGHT" Sylvester Stallone is a cabbie in New York City, and formerly head of Emergency Medical Services for the city, until a scandal involving loss of life drove him to the profession of Travis Bickle. Just from the way he commands the wheel of his cab, we know Kit is destined for higher duty again. Destiny offers a whopper. In rush hour, an explosion rips through a tunnel below the Hudson River, blocking exits at both the Manhattan and Jersey sides. It's hell under water, earth, cement and steel. Some good actors are trapped in that tunnel, with fires bursting and water leaking and cobra-like raw ends of electric conduits waving in the air, showering sparks while gas leaks from trucks. So much is here: crashing bulwarks, gas fires, floods, rats, mud, flying junk eager to shear your head off. The film is not for anyone claustrophobic or maybe any sort of phobic. It's a nonstop squirm of doom, with shocks every few minutes (during 109 minutes, that is a lot of shocks). Stallone, the Kit with nine lives, keeps going strong, way after exhaustion, bone-soaking cold and blown muscle should have turned him to flotsam. Cast: Sylvester Stallone, Amy Brenneman, Viggo Mortensen, Barry Newman, Stan Shaw, Claire Bloom, Karen Young, Dan Hedaya. (Elliott) Rated PG-13.

A weekly look inside New York City's most sophisticated gentlemen's club and the celebrities who can't get enough of it...

Billy Baldwin

The smell of chestnuts roasting on an open fire may be in the air, but who has time for warm nuts when Scores' front entrance has the look of a star-studded Hollywood premiere minus the movie? Three of Tinseltown's hottest names were spotted having the time of their glamourous lives this past weekend.

Some of you might have heard of the infamous Baldwin brothers, Alec, Stephen, Daniel and William. Apparently the siblings seem to have a real fondness for Scores. This past weekend brother William (Billy) walked into the club with a couple of his guy buddies to celebrate...well, life, I guess. Billy made his first film appearance in "Born on the Fourth of July" with Tom Cruise, but is best known for his role in Ron Howard's fire thriller, "Backdraft."

One thing you really have to admire about Billy is his honesty. The actor was recently quoted as saying, "I can honestly say that if Alec had never gone into the business, I wouldn't be an actor." Even more admirable is Billy's taste in women. Obviously anyone who's married to Chynna Phillips is going to be very picky about which gentlemen's club he frequents.

Also seen relaxing in the champagne room was veteran actor Fisher Stevens. You might know Fisher as the lead in the popular film "Short Circuit." Fisher is also well known for such films as "The Burning," "Baby It's You," "The Flamingo Kid," "My Science Project," "Bloodhounds Of Broadway," "Reversal Of Fortune"...should I go on? Okay. "The Marrying Man," "Mystery Date," "When The Party's Over," "Hero," "Super Mario Brothers," "Nina Takes A Lover," "Cold Fever," "Only You" and "Hackers." And if that's not enough, Fisher's television credits are just as impressive. The actor played the lead in "Keywest" and guest-starred in "The Young Riders," "Columbo" and "Ryan's Hope." Phew, can I go home now?

Finally, Hollywood's fastest rising star is Cuba Gooding, Jr. Cuba and some friends made sure to stop by Scores while he was in town promoting his latest film with Tom Cruise, "Jerry Maguire." Cuba first made his mark in "Boyz N' The Hood," and hasn't looked back since. Look for Cuba to be on everyone's hot list for the next several years. Oh yeah, you can also look for him at Scores.

MOVIE GUIDE

GREAT GOOD FAIR BORING POOR

GLENN CLOSE

101 DALMATIANS

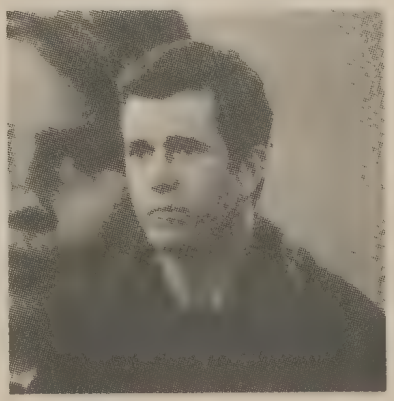
Disney's live-action remake of its popular 1961 cartoon feature offers plenty of tail-wagging appeal for youngsters. But the refurbished story, adorned with slapstick revenge elements from "Home Alone," is somewhat less charming and witty than the original. Nevertheless, Glenn Close camps it up as the witchy fashion mogul who schemes to make a spotted fur coat out of Dalmatian puppy pelts. Jeff Daniels and Joely Richardson are good as the London-based romantic couple. And all those puppies scampering about are an irresistible sight. (G)

THE ENGLISH PATIENT

Complex melodrama, adapted from Michael Ondaatje's novel, that tells of various romantic encounters and war-related tragedies played out during England's involvement in World War II desert conflicts. Ralph Fiennes is reliably good in the title role as a disfigured burn victim, recovering in an Italian villa and cared for by a Canadian nurse (Juliette Binoche). But the long, intricate story drifts uncomfortably out of focus with excessive flashbacks and vague characters. Also with Willem Dafoe and Kristin Scott Thomas. (R)

THE CRUCIBLE

Passion and drama come on strong in this engrossing screen version of Arthur Miller's celebrated stage play about the hysterical accusations of witchcraft in 17th-century Salem, Mass. After a somewhat labored beginning, the powerful story presents a fierce display of emotion at the tragic outcome. See first-class performances from a top cast: Daniel Day-Lewis as an indicted farmer who struggles with his conscience; Paul Scofield as the stern judge; Winona Ryder as the young woman whose schemes and fantasies lead to unjustified damnations. (PG-13)



MEL GIBSON

RANSOM

Efficient, slick suspenser that features Mel Gibson as an airline tycoon who strives to outwit his son's kidnappers. Instead of caving in to ransom demands, he pulls out all the stops to make the criminals feel threatened. Director Ron Howard develops neat twists to the clever story that packs plenty of tension. Mel is a bit straitjacketed in his role, but Gary Sinise is wonderfully watchable as the explosive villain. The solid cast also includes Delroy Lindo and Lili Taylor. (R)

ARNOLD SCHWARZENEGGER

JINGLE ALL THE WAY

Lifeless holiday family comedy starring Arnold Schwarzenegger as a neglectful father racing to buy his son a popular, nearly-sold-out, action toy. Leaden direction and an unfunny script centers on a boring and insincere chase through a shopping mall during the Christmas rush. Arnie isn't believable until he takes on the guise of a superhero. Phil Hartman, as an unctuous neighbor, and Sinbad, as a deranged postman, add little to this spoof of crass materialism. (PG)

GERONIMO! HOTSPOT Cares!

Geronimo! Hotspot in association with The Center For Food Action, (CFA,) Cuervo Brand Tequilas, and Steppin' Out Magazine is sponsoring our first annual food drive to help make the holiday season a bit brighter for families in desperate situations. Items should be brought in every Thurs., Fri,. & Sat. from now until Christmas. For every donation, you'll receive "Thank Yous" such as drink discounts & chances to win great prizes. Without the CFA's help many families would go hungry, have their utilities disconnected or become homeless while they struggle to regain their self-sufficiency. CFA serves families from nearly every town in Bergen county. The most needed food items are juices, canned meats and fish and holiday items such as cranberry sauce, stuffing mix, canned yams, pancake mix and syrup.

Live Like You Wanna Live!

...And make the holidays a little brighter for your neighbors in need.

REAL-LIFE TELEPERSONALS PRESENTS: "The 1st call"

SHE SAID

"My mom told me to call Telepersonals...

It seems funny now. I had just come back from college and wasn't seeing anyone. I certainly wanted to, but wasn't sure where to start. I'm kind of shy and definitely not into the bar scene. Anyway, my mother had heard about Telepersonals and suggested I call. I said, "Yeah right Mom! I mean what kind of person would use Telepersonals?" Ten minutes later I snuck upstairs and called..."

Della Martin – 21, college student, allergic to singles bars, and 100% genuine Telepersonals user.

Mrs. Glenice Martin Della's magnificent Mom, eternal romantic, and 100% fan of Telepersonals.
